Steamer Leggett Relinquishes the Big Log Raft.

CASCADES IN LAST NIGHT

Quiet Along the Docks—All Local Steamers Keeping Their Schedules—Abatement of Gale Will Start Activity Anew.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—The steamer Santa Barbara which ran on a reef near Delmar, on the Mendocino County coast last Sunday was towed into this harbor today by the steamer Pomo. The Santa Barbara became so completely water-logged as she approached port that two knots an hour was the best the Pomo could make with her. The derelict will be towed to the drydock and repaired. Most of her cargo is rated as a loss.

The barkentine Amelia is down from Portland and Rainer and is at anchor off the O. R. & N. pier. She will get to sea today if possible. She is consigned to the Foss Lumber company at Berkeley, opposite San Francisco, and carries half a million feet of lumber.

The steamer Harvest Queen is busy between tows carrying cased salmon from North Shore canneries to the O. R. & N. piers for shipment.

The steamer Leggett is under orders to relinquish her tow on the big sea raft now grounded in Young's Bay, and depart for San Francisco where she will enter the run between that port and Eureka. She was tied up at the A. & C. R. pier late yesterday afternoon and will probably go to sea this morning. The log raft will be anchored where it lies, and a dolphin erected at its head to which it will be made fast, a light will be kept upon it every night, and all precautions taken to ensure its safety and the safety of vessels passing it. How long it will remain here is problematical. It is bedding itself in the sand, deeper and deeper day by day and the final disposition of it may be that it will be torn apart and rafted back to the Stella crib and reconstructed for another venture at voyaging it to San Francisco.

Charles E. Mitchell, receiving clerk of the Callender Navigation company's dock, is back at his post after a jolly outing of four days at Portland and the fair. He says every body was good to him, but he just had to come back.

The Telegraph is still swiftly busy on the Portland run. She got down yesterday with 72 passengers and left up with 40 round-trippers. It is said Capt. Scott intends to convert her into an oil burner as soon as the present season is over, but this could not be verified yesterday.

The steamer Cascades arrived in from San Francisco, late yesterday evening and will leave up for Portland early this morning. Captain Jorgensen reports that he came up on the tail end of the storm and so escaped its severity, and had nothing adverse but a very rough bar to cross getting in here.

The Lurline was a couple of hours behind her schedule last night owing to freight pressure at up-river points. She got away for Portland with a good list of people, among whom were noticed: Howard Gaylord, O. R. Stuart, J. Mille, W. Seaborg, of the Bay View Cannery; C. McCutcheon, J. L. Denton, F. H. Mudd, Miss Lida Leinenweber and Mr. and Mrs. I. N. McCormack.

Don't Borrow Trouble.

It is a bad habit to borrow anything, but the worst thing you can possibly borrow, is trouble. When sick, sore, heavy, weary and worn-out by the pains and poisons of dyspepsia, biliousness, Bright's disease, and similar internal disorders, don't sit down and brood over your symptoms, but fly for relief to Electric Bitters. Here you will find sure and permanent forgetfulness of all your troubles, and your body will not be burdened by a load of debt disease. At Chas. Rogers' drug store. Price 50c. Guaranteed.

VISITORS WELL PLEASED.

Mr. Arthur Adair and wife of Watterville, Maine, who have been the guests of Rev. and Mrs. L. D. Mahone, the first part of the week left for Portland last evening and thence to California. Mr. Adair is a prominent business man of his home city, being identified with a number of industries and a member of the city administration. He was greatly pleased with his visit to our city. The large mills, canneries and other places of interest were shown them while here.

THE PROMISED LAND.

Rev. E. S. McClue of Iowa, was the guest of Rev. Luther D. Mahone yesterday. He is much pleased with the western country and has decided to remain on the coast. Coming to the west he immediately wrote back to his father and urged him to come to "this promised land." He immediately packed up and began his migration and last week purchased property near Portland and is now domiciled in his new home. One hundred more farmers for Clatsop county would mean much for Astoria. They would care if they knew of the advantages.

NORTH SHORE TELEPHONE.

The projected line of telephone service along the north shore of the river opposite this city and eastwardly from McGowan's, notice of which was taken in these columns on Sunday morning last, has not matured. There was no meeting held between the people across the bay and the representative of the Pacific States T. & T. company, nor with anyone else, in this relation, as was counted upon. But the idea is an essential one and must soon develop. The important points of Gray's Harbor, Deep River, Brookfield and many others en route along the proposed circuit will not stay out of quick touch with the world much longer. But it is held they will have to get their service from the Seattle office of the Pacific States and not from Portland. Local telephone men say the route is one of the roughest in the whole northwest to construct, but it will be constructed, all the same.

TOUR OF INSPECTION.

State Fish Warden Has Returned From an Official Round of the Hatcheries.

State Fish Warden H. G. Van Dusen has returned to his office in this city after a week's tour of inspection of some of the important hatcheries in the state, and is gathering up the loose ends of official business accumulated during his absence. He reports the new pools and fishwheels at the Willamette falls, at Oregon City, to be in thoroughly satisfactory condition, the contractor who did the work having spared neither time nor pains in fulfilling his contract at all points.

The state board of fish commissioners which was to have met in Salem yesterday, has postponed the meeting until Monday next.

A letter received yesterday by Warden Van Dusen from J. M. Wisner, field deputy of the bureau of fisheries, department of commerce and labor, stationed at Clackamas, complaining bitterly of the reckless invasion of the hatchery grounds there and of indiscriminate shooting of salmon in the Clackamas river. Mr. Wisner suggests that the depredators about that section are familiar with the movements of the deputy fish warden stationed there and time their devilment so as to escape apprehension, and suggested that a special officer be sent there at once to make a "bagging," and the state warden responded by despatching Deputy Fish Warden Webster to the aid of his colleague, last night. It is probable there will be something doing up there in a few days.

Plans to Get Rich. are often frustrated by sudden breakdown, due to dyspepsia or constipation. Brace up and take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They take out the materials which are clogging your energies, and give you a new start. Cure headache and dizziness too. At Chas. Rogers' drug store; 25c, guaranteed.

Old Gunderson, the well known Salvation Army special, has accepted a position as clerk with L. H. Henningson & company, the Bond street merchant.

Councilman Leander Lebeck left on the 6:10 train yesterday evening for Collins Springs, where he will spend two weeks in an effort to restore his health, which has not been at the best lately.

A. P. Leonard, of South Bend, Washington, the popular auditor of Pacific county, came down from Portland yesterday, where he has been "hitting the trail" at the Lewis and Clark fair. As he wanted to take in everything good there was going, he along with all other good Elks took in the "Lauderbach Fest" last night. His kind and sympathetic brothers will see that he is properly tagged and shipped home this morning, via the Nabcotta.

VISITORS DISAPPOINTED.

Messrs. E. B. Schmidt and F. L. Baumeister, of Dunkirk, N. Y., were in the city yesterday. They thought Astoria was directly upon the sea shore and were greatly disappointed to find it 18 miles away from Old Ocean, as they had but one day to stay here. They found some jolly Elk friends, however, and certainly lost nothing that was good and pleasant about Astoria. They departed for Portland and their eastern home, on the 6:10 express last evening.

NOT TAINTED MONEY

Dr. Pearson Presents Turkish College With $50,000.

AN INTERESTING EXPLANATION

Says That If Congregationalists Fear It Is Tainted They Are Not Compelled to Take it as There Are Many Who Would Be Glad to Do So.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Dr. K. Pearsons, of this city, who has endowed so many small colleges throughout the country, yesterday presented to the American board of foreign missions of the Congregational church $50,000 to be used for Anatolia college, Marsovan, Turkey. The money is to remain intact forever, and only the interest is to be used for the benefit of the college.

In his letter to the board Dr. Pearsons explained just how he acquired the money which he desired to devote to the missionary cause. He added that if the Congregationalists chose to spurn it, he would be able to find a place for it elsewhere. His letter follows:

"I enclose $50,000 for Anatolia college, Marsovan, Turkey. This money is to form the Mrs. D. K. Pearsons memorial endowment fund and the principal is to be forever intact; the interest alone being used for the support of the college.

"This money came in this way. By sharp bargaining and rigid economy I acquired $10,000 and 12 years ago I purchased 100 shares of bank stock. During these 12 years this stock has paid me good interest and now I can sell the 100 shares for $50,000. I can give you the name of the bank, and the names of the directors, all good men.

"Will this money be good to extend Christian education in Turkey or is it 'tainted' money? If you refuse it there are several theological seminaries here that would be pleased to get it and I know of 100 poor colleges, south and west that would be delighted to receive it."

DAS LAUDERBACH FEST.

Gala Night With the "Best People on Earth."

The long-talked of Landerbach Fest inaugurated by Astoria Lodge No. 180, B. P. O. E., transpired last night and was carried off with all the zest and éclat for which the Elks are famous the world over. The attendance was limited only by the membership of the lodge and such visiting Elks as had the good fortune to be in Astoria yesterday, and from the accounts current at midnight the affair was happily successful in every particular.

The lodge had set up two prizes to be drawn for by the members on this occasion, one, a paid up life-membership card in Astoria lodge; the other, the right to bear the lodge-number "180" on the travelling card of the Elk drawing it. The first honor fell to Charles A. Stockton, (now of Portland), and the second to Walter Ingalls of this city, and both will be thoroughly appreciated.

A large number of the Elks were in German costume and created no end of amusement. The entire affair was original, unique, and on a par with the universal aptitude of the Elk to do things as they should be done.
